

Hello {company_name}!

I'm ready to create {fancy_adjective} content.

I was 16 years old when I found my first passion in HTML and Web development. During my teenage years I created really bad websites for local companies. It wasn't much but it was honest work. In 2011 i started to study Digital Visualization but after 2.5 years I ended my studies to work as front-end developer for a multi-million SEK company in Stockholm. After 2 years of web development I decided to go back to my first passion which was video production. I joined an content creation company in 2016 and became minority shareholder in 2017 and have since then worked with multiple companies managing, producing and delivering hundreds of projects. My primary work tasks included strategy, system architecture, studio development, art direction & motion graphics.

Going forward

I want to create a dialogue with the audience by creating authentic and real-time communication. In order to keep the brand vibrant and exciting we must always deliver high quality content in terms of information and production value. By leveraging the latest technologies in web, 3D, blockchain, video production and communication we can truly create an alive brand ready for the future.
